

Medical Device Licenses and Approval of Claims

Therapeutic Products Directorate, Medical Devices Bureau under Health Canada

Their Mission: to ensure that drugs, medical devices and other therapeutic products available in Canada are safe, effective and of high quality.

These licenses were obtained and these approved claims can be made in Canada:

Medical Device License for Chi Machine #66598

Purpose / Intended use: The Chi Machine is a Therapeutic Massager.

Benefits of using the Chi Machine are: temporarily relieves muscular aches, pains and tensions caused by fatigue or overexertion and temporarily increases local blood circulation. It helps reduce leg fluids, whole body extracellular fluid, weight associated with extracellular fluid and subjective leg symptoms. The Chi Machine relaxes muscles locally and provides a full body massage.

Medical Device License for HotHouse #66569

Purpose / Intended use: HotHouse is a portable FIR (Far Infrared) topical warming unit that has an arched 160-degree design that increases warming coverage. There are 4 positions: Lower legs; back; abdomen; hand/arm; back. Height extensions are included and so is an armrest.

The HotHouse produces a warm and comfortable feeling and is a perfect adjunction to massage and other Manipulative modalities. It gently elevates the body's surface temperature and helps to expand capillaries and stimulate blood circulation. It relieves fatigue and pain symptoms.

Medical Device License for Advanced ERE #66568

Purpose / Intended use: Advanced Electro Reflex Energizer is a foot massager with 3 settings: Stimulation, Pounding, Relaxing and Massaging. A timer is also included. The user sits in a chair and places their feet on the device pads. A belt is placed around the thighs to prevent the legs from spreading out while using the device. Electro pads can be plugged into the device and placed on the shoulders or waist area for stimulation.

The Advanced Electro Reflex Energizer helps to relax and revitalize the entire body and keeps feet warm and soothed by heating stimulation. The massager soothes and refreshes aching feet with the penetrating massage action. The Advanced ERE relieves stressful aches and pains, eases tension and reduces fatigue, and improves local blood circulation. The electro pads provide the same soothing massage action.
